

Martha Leach – 2015

Her amateur accomplishments spread far and wide. She's played in over 56 USGA Championships (and counting) – including playing the in U.S. Women's Amateur in five different decades. While she's made it to Quarter, Semi and Final rounds of many of those top events, she won the 2009 U.S. Women's Mid-Amateur at Golden Hills Golf and Turf Club. She also won the 1979 Bermuda Amateur. She was ranked tenth in the country by Golf Digest in 2001 and twentieth by Golf Week in 2010. She was on University of Georgia's Golf Team from 1980-1983, where they won an SEC Championship in 1983. In 2015, she and daughter, Madison were the only Mother/Daughter team to qualify for the U.S. Women's Amateur Four-Ball, an event held on Mother's Day. Leach is the youngest sister of three-time U.S. Women's Open champion Hollis Stacy and also holds important titles in Texas and Georgia.
