Parent Narrative

Andrew has big plans with a modest budget. There are success stories in sports where young people come from modest starts to accomplish big things; hopefully Andrew can be one of those situations. We are thankful for the Kentucky Junior Golf Tour, the Southeast Kentucky Junior Golf Tour, The First Tee, and the Gay Brewer family for considering the youth in all parts of our state. It is a challenge at times to travel 2 hours to Lexington or 3 hours to Louisville to allow our son to compete, but we believe in him and to this point he has done his part of the agreement. Our covenant has two parts for him – He will try his best when he competes and – He will have an appreciative attitude. Andrew is exceptional on controlling his emotions and representing with appropriate behavior. He has learned much of this from The First Tee program and some from his mentors.

As a single parent it is a challenge helping him partake in tournament golf to the extent that would warrant more attention or notoriety. It is important enough to his care team and I to make sacrifices so he can enjoy this privilege to an extent. The Kentucky Golf Foundation and the Gay Brewer scholarship can definitely make more of this possible. Thank you for considering my son.

Sincerely,

Donnie A. Caldwell, PGA

Why I feel I should be awarded the Gay Brewer Scholarship:

Kentucky has great golf history and Mr. Gay Brewer is a big part of that both with how he played and being a Masters champion. He also has impacted Kentucky golf history by helping the upcoming generations get an opportunity to play and compete. I could be a great choice for this scholarship due mostly to my attitude and mannerisms. My family has taught me to try my best and maintain an appreciative attitude. Mr. Brewer no doubt did the same. He likely tried his best to become a major champion and he probably had an appreciative attitude. I may be one of the few junior golfers in the state of Kentucky with his signed memorabilia. He signed a glove when he played our state park and I have it hanging in my room, much like Tiger held Jack's record over his bed.

I am an ACE participant of The First Tee and in that we are in a process of learning and setting goals. A goal of mine is to compete on the state level and also on a national stage. By getting this help, I can schedule to compete outside of our state and try to represent the Kentucky Junior PGA and The First Tee. I can also tell his story. When someone asks me how I got here, I can let them know how Mr. Brewer's legacy helps Kentucky youth reach their dreams.

Sincerely,

Andrew Caldwell
