It would be an honor to nominate my friend Rick Cain to the Kentucky Golf Hall of Fame. Rick and I met 47 years ago when we worked together at Cherokee Golf Course. The first day, I watched him shoot 66 with no driver in his bag. I knew I had met a great player.

Besides Rick's accomplishments as a player, he has always been more than willing to help others, whether on the practice tee, putting green, or golf course itself. He has been a friend to golfers and to the game.

I believe the Kentucky golf Hall of Fame members would be glad to have him join them.

Tim Tudor

I would like to recommend Rick Cain to the class of 2016 Kentucky Golf Hall of Fame. I have competed against and partnered with Rick for over 35 years. He has brought to Kentucky golf a fierce competitiveness, a personal relationship with amateurs and pros, and a love for the game of golf. With these qualities and all his golf accomplishments, He would be a great addition to the Kentucky Golf Hall of Fame.

Mike Campbell

By the way: Just a few things about Rick that not many people know and are totally unrelated to golf, but are worth mentioning.

- Has a Masters degree in psychology
- Has a black belt in Aikido
- Is an accomplished musician, singer, and song writer (has written 17 songs that have been recorded) and is a member of the Stevie Ray's Blues Bar Hall of Fame. See attached photo
